UM TO OFFER HONORS INSTITUTE

MISSOULA --

The University of Montana will offer for the first time next summer an Honors Institute for high school juniors. The institute will be June 20 through July 1 on the UM campus.

Students may choose one of three introductory courses: "Introductory Ecology," taught by Lee H. Metzgar, professor of wildlife biology and coordinator of the Honors Institute; "Political Ethics," taught by philosophy Professor Albert Borgmann; or "Small Group Communication," taught by Alan L. Sillars, associate professor of interpersonal communication.

The university will award 30 scholarships covering housing and in-state tuition. All students will pay for their meals, books, incidentals and transportation to and from the program. Meals, available on an a la carte basis, will cost $100-150. Books should cost $50 or less.

Applicants must have completed their junior year of high school, have a 3.0 or better grade-point average and be in the top 10 percent of their class. Completed applications must be postmarked by May 2. Applicants will be notified of acceptance and award of scholarship by May 16.

To receive an application packet, interested students and parents should write to the UM Honors Institute; Center for

Continuing Education; 125 Main Hall, University of Montana;
Missoula, Mont. 59812.
